

The McPin Foundation is a mental health research charity. We champion expertise from experience in research so that people's mental health is improved in communities everywhere. We deliver high quality mental health research and evaluations. We support and help to shape the research of others, often advising on patient and public involvement strategies. We work to ensure research achieves positive change. Find out more about us at www.mcpin.org, or follow us on Twitter @mcpinfoundation

Our participants

In 2021-22, we engaged with people across England as participants in our studies or attending research events.

Our new and developing projects

In 2021-22, we were involved in developing proposals to secure funding and start new research projects.

We were involved in 58 projects – 72% involved a LEAP or peer advisory group, 50% used peer research methods and 98% used any lived experience input.

We received over £697,985 to deliver commissioned work, starting 17 new projects within the year.

We collaborated with 23 universities and 14 other partners to deliver projects.

Our outputs

A vital part of our work is producing practical resources to inform and influence others, alongside comment pieces. We have been particularly active contributing to peer review journal articles, writing blogs and speaking at events.

Our involvement panels

We continue to run Lived Experience Advisory Panels (LEAPs) for university-based research projects. These are panels made up of people with relevant expertise from experience linked to the research topic being studied.

20 involvement panels
182 people on the panels

Capacity building

8 people over the last nine years have left the McPin Foundation to start a PhD or Msc.
4 people have been supported to continue PhD/MSc studies whilst at the McPin Foundation.
